Cases treated at this specialist practice.

What is Orthodontic Treatment?

Orthodontic treatment is the straightening of teeth and supervision of facial growth. Treatment usually involves wearing an orthodontic brace (appliance).

Dentists refer NHS patients through a system called REGO direct to our specialist practice for orthodontic treatment.

Dentists refer private patients directly to our specialist practice. We also accept private patients by self-referral. Private referrals are available to download on our website or can be sent by email, telephone, and post.

All types of orthodontic appliances are available at this specialist practice. "Low visibility" or "nearly invisible" appliances are available privately such as Invisalign, ceramic (white) brackets and lingual orthodontics (where the brace is fitted behind the teeth).

Why see a Specialist Orthodontist? –

1. We don't just align your teeth.
2. We get your bite correct.
3. We put your smile in the right place in your face.

How we ensure a high standard of orthodontic care

We achieve a high standard of care through our well-qualified skills and team training. All our staff regularly receive higher training (continuing professional development) beyond the government requirements.

Evidence based orthodontic treatment is undertaken at this specialist practice. This means that you can have confidence that the techniques used here are based on sound research and are well accepted within the orthodontic community. An ideal orthodontic result is always our first treatment goal. An orthodontic best compromise result is only considered when a patient for a variety of reasons can not achieve an ideal result.

A detailed diagnostic and consenting procedure are followed to make sure that both patient and parents understand the options and type of treatment before going ahead with a brace.

We use a custom designed operating facility with the latest orthodontic equipment and computerised networked practice management system.

Our clinical governance program has passed all CQC inspections. Our practice-based quality assurance program is based on the British Dental Association requirements and is continually reviewed and updated. Quality control, infection control, radiological protection, health and safety and risk assessments are assessed at each management meeting to ensure that standards are met.

Good treatment comes from good communication. We have a feedback system and a comprehensive complaints procedure so that we can continuously improve our service to you. If you would like to make a comment to allow us to enhance our service further, please tell a member of staff or ask for a form to fill in.

Your dental records will remain confidential and secure. However, from time to time we may need to release these to Hampshire Primary Care Trust or the NHS Business Services Authority as part of our ongoing clinical review process. We will try to contact you before releasing your dental records to another organisation.

As a patient of the practice, you have the right to express a preference to receive services from a particular clinician.

Private treatment

- Private referrals can be seen for assessment within 2 weeks of receipt of referral.
- Private treatment allows more time for the treatment to be carried out.
- Both children and adults may be seen privately for orthodontic treatment. Adults (>18 years) are only seen privately.
- Private patients can book appointments before 9am and after 3pm (this cannot always be guaranteed).
- "Low visibility" appliances are available only within private treatment plans.
- Your investment can be spread over 18 to 24 months which has been very popular, helping to make private orthodontic care easier for you.
- Different payment options can be arranged to make private treatment possible for you.
